

Here is a collection of some very nice luminaries. Got those photo from a friend, thus I don't know about the creators. However, I want to state, that I didn't have the ideas nor that I'm the photographer. In this place I want to express my admiration for these project.

Lovely light, ideal to be lasered out of some stainless steel sheet

Noble combination of wood and glass

Another successful marriage of materials and light

An inspiring concept of light, lumagnetix tiles should be able to produce this kind of single sided light

High class design. Ledil Florence lenses could adjust the light distribution according the specific need the light log (c:

Circle bent profiles, the board of rings